

Art of Storytelling

Learn how authors tell stories without words, then create, illustrate and publish your own wordless book

Day 1

- How do images tell stories? Students will look at picture books, comic books, and graphic design to better understand what images can tell us. We will then start to brainstorm the basic elements of our stories and build story maps!

Day 2

- Looking at faces! We will look at the different ways artist show emotion and expression. We will practice with our own faces to show different feelings and develop our main characters. What makes our characters unique?

Day 3

- Beginning, Middle, End! Students will finalize their story map and start to create a story board. We will explore how artists show movement, conflict, and conflict resolution.

Day 4

- Ready, Set, Create! Using paint, pencils, and collage, we will create the pages of the story.

Day 5

- That's a wrap! We will finish our story pages and bind our books!
